

Helping government agencies adapt and lead with technology

Windstream Enterprise will take the time to understand your agency's goals, then collaborate with your IT team to design, develop and manage the right solution, when and where you need it.

A nationwide network

Windstream Enterprise operates a nationwide network that offers route diversity from other key communications service providers.

Preapproved

Windstream Enterprise currently serves 150 federal government agencies and departments and is preapproved for government contracts via multiple federal and GSA contract vehicles.
